Re: 2012 Recipient Words Make People Literary Excellence & Scholarship Award

Dear Friends & Supporters: Greetings of Peace.

On behalf of the WMP National Scholarship Committee and FAMACO Publishers, I am pleased to announce Ms. Albertha Aamina Sabree as this year's Scholarship recipient. Ms. Sabree is a rising sophomore at Agnes Scott College in Decatur Georgia.

The Words Make People (WMP) Literary Excellence & Scholarship award is established in honor of American Muslim Leader and Humanitarian, the late Imam Dr. W. Deen Mohammed (ra). This year's award is a certificate of achievement, a $1,000 scholarship and gifts presented to a deserving college or high school student who has demonstrated throughout his or her coursework, professional or extracurricular activities, the highest standard of excellence in written communication including creative writing, critical thought, research and analysis, exposition, or journalism. The Scholarship is open to students of all faiths.

In brief, Ms. Sabree just completed her freshman year with a perfect G.P.A. of 4.0. A former 2011 class valedictorian at W.D. Mohammed High in Atlanta, she earned her G.P.A. with special recognition for achievement in Mathematics. She is also a talented writer with sterling accolades from St. Agnes College Faculty and the Atlanta Youth Writer's Camp for her achievement in literature, research and journalistic composition. Among her noted research essays are: The Role of Faith in the African-American Struggle, Perceptions of the American Dream during the Economic Challenges of the 21st Century: The American Dream vs. The American Reality, and her award winning expository analysis on the meaning of Words Make People.

Ms. Sabree is active in the Muslim Student Association and other college activities and volunteers in her community. She typifies the faith-based scholarship, leadership, and character excellence the WMP Scholarship seeks to recognize, support, and inspire in our future leaders.

A full press release with more on Ms. Sabree's achievements and acknowledgment of all who helped support and make this effort possible will follow. We wish Ms. Sabree the Choicest Blessings and continued success and wish all a Joyous Eid Celebration.

Peace be with you.

M. Muhammad
