

Applying The Teachings of Imam W. Deen Mohammed About the Author Mubaashir Uqdah

Mubaashir Uqdah accepted Al-Islam in Plainfield New Jersey in 1977 under the leadership of Imam W. Deen Mohammed. From the moment he became a Muslim he has been an avid student of Al-Islam and the commentary of Imam W. Deen Mohammed and an active worker in the community.

For example, he was chairperson of his local Masjid's CRAID committee, helped start UMMRAH, United Muslim Musicians and Recording Artists, Convener of the NJ Monitoring Team, Convener of the New Jersey Associates for Community Planning, Assistant to the NJ Imam Council, among other things.

Currently, brother Uqdah is contributing to a number of projects of value to the community of Imam W. Deen Mohammed, including:

- Working with educators across the country to develop a master curriculum based on the Qur'an, Sunnah, and Tafsir of Imam W. Deen Mohammed, for the benefit of Clara Muhammad Schools for both full-time (Pre-K through 12) and weekend schools throughout the country.
- He writes a column in the Muslim Journal titled, "Applying the Teachings of Imam W. Deen Mohammed and is currently compiling these writings into 4 books."
- He is also author of a book for children, Raheem Wins the Spelling Contest.
- He is Founder and Coordinator of the NJ Muslim E-mail Network, a service that distributes advertisement for events and businesses throughout New Jersey and Philadelphia and other parts of the country via other associated networks.
- He is working with believers to preserve the lectures of Imam W. Deen Mohammed by converting old tapes to .mp3 files and scanning the lectures of Imam Mohammed from the centerfolds of the Muslim Journals from 1975 through 2008.
- Imam Mohammed publicly stated that brother Uqdah's writings are required reading for all of his students.

Mubaashir currently resides in Pennsylvania. He is married with 3 children, has a Bachelor's degree in Business Systems & Information Technology, and has had a successful 15 year career as a Senior Technical Writer for several fortune 500 companies.